

What if you're spending too much time doing what you weren't trained to do?

Authorised Financial Services Provider

We simplify your life.

At Zurich we know how demanding secondary aspects of a business can be. It's the reason we provide a combined business and personal insurance policy especially geared to small businesses. It's called Flexiflite and, whether your business centres around your profession, your trade or a retail operation, this one policy with one monthly or annual debit brings balance, simplicity and control, not forgetting greatly reduced administration. We understand that our customers need to manage the many changes brought on by an unpredictable and rapidly changing world. This is why you have many options including cover for buildings, their contents, equipment and vehicles. Importantly, Flexiflite allows you more time to do what you're good at while we do the rest.
